

Summary of European Strategy for Particle Physics from RECFA

viernes, 20 de junio de 2025 11:30 (45 actas)

In this talk I will describe the process in place to produce the third update to the European Strategy for Particle Physics (ESPP) that should be ready in 2026. I will go through the more than 200 inputs received as of March 31st and the decisions taken during the process. All this information will be discussed during an open symposium that will be held in Venice at the end of June.
